

Tiers of Support for Students At Citizens of the World Kansas City

Academic, social, and emotional support at CWCKC is planned and implemented in a manner consistent with the RTI model. We know that every classroom of diverse students includes learners with different needs, strengths, styles, life circumstances, and personalities.

We have created a learning environment and approach that puts researched-based, best practices to work to serve the vast majority of learners. In addition, we implement additional programmatic features, approaches, and opportunities to serve students for whom the basic structures are not enough. In a small number of situations, more intensive support is needed – across all areas of growth: academic, social, and emotional.
